M@GIC INFORMATION
SYSTEMS INC.

Established in 1983 by Robert and Valerie Blake, Adheco Ltd, a supplier of abrasives, adhesives, and tapes, was purchased by Dan and Janice Davis in 2001, upon the Blake's retirement. Since then, the company has grown to be a worldwide supplier of their core products with the addition of new products and services, such as pressure sensitive tapes, teflon products, single and double-coated tapes, slitting, custom tape cutting, and associated equipment. Adheco Ltd, became an ISO registered company in 2003, and is a distributor for some of the biggest and better-known manufacturers in their industry, such as 3M, Aplix, Scapa, and Velcro.

Robert and Valerie Blake purchased Accountware from MIS Inc. in 1998 to help them manage their growing inventory, keep track of landed costs and control daily accounting tasks, such as sales, purchasing, receivables, payables, financials, and multi-level customer pricing as well. Accountware™ and its successor eWholesale™ has adapted to the growing needs of the company. Adheco Ltd has implemented other features and functions of eWholesale™, such as multi-currency, multi-warehousing for customers receiving products on consignment and for outside contractors who are given product for conversion.

Looking for ways to serve their customers better, and to make their operations more efficient and reliable, Adheco Ltd decided to move in-house some of the previously farmed out product conversion processes. To this effect, Adheco purchased MIS Inc.'s product eManufacturing, which is fully integrated with eWholesale™. eManufacturing™, supports multi-level BOMs, multi-stage Work Orders, and Kitting to track production and keep component/finished item balances up-to-date.

Another product recently implemented at Adheco Ltd, is ePOGen, which is a powerful productivity tool for the purchasing department. ePOGen enables the automatic generation of supplier purchase orders based on eWholesale's current stock position. Purchasing personnel have the full ability to review and modify vendors, parts, quantities and prices, etc. prior to finalizing the purchase order generation.

“As an ISO 9001:2000, registered company we strive to optimize and streamline internal operations, and to operate within the confines of an internationally recognized quality system. eWholesale, has provided Adheco with an excellent business solution, which has been a key component in allowing us to reach our goals.”
